 - C. Assistance in organization of education and trainings of specialists in the field of their competence;
 - D. Mutual support to share experiences with other organizations of which the Parties are members;
 - E. Any other areas of cooperation that may be jointly decided upon by the Parties.

Article 3

Appointment of representatives

1. The Parties could designate their representatives to implement the actions envisaged, to outline the collaboration projects, and to exchange opinions on matters related to this MoU. They may organize a joint meeting for follow-up and coordination.

Article 4

Protection of the information

1. In accordance with their national legislation, the Parties will ensure the protection of the information, documents, materials, and equipment received during the implementation of this MoU, or resulting from joint activities.
2. The Parties will take necessary measures to protect any confidential information received or generated under this MoU in accordance with the national legislation of their States.
3. Information obtained during the implementation of activities under this MoU will not be used by the Party to the detriment of the interests of another Party.

Article 5

Expenses

1. This MoU will not impose any financial responsibilities on its Parties, except that each Parties will be responsible for the funding costs it incurs in its own interest, related to the support of the MoU.
2. This MoU will be carried out in accordance with the relevant procedures of national legislation of their States.
3. The expenses incurred by them will be conditioned to the existence of ordinary annual budget availability.
4. For the implementation of this MoU shall be taken into account the availability of appropriate personnel of the Parties.

Article 6

Dispute settlement and Legal Effect

1. Any disputes arising from the application of this MoU will be settled promptly and amicably through consultations between the Parties.
2. This MoU is not an agreement under the Vienna Convention of International Treaties, 1969 and does not create any rights and obligations for the Parties and their States, governed by international law.

3. This MoU does not constitute an international treaty and is not intended to create any legal obligations under international law

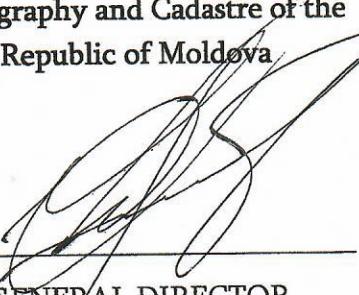

Article 7

Application, Duration and Termination

1. This MoU will be applicable from the date of signature until either Party decides to terminate its application by notifying the other Party, in writing, of its intention to terminate the application of this MoU, six (6) months in advance.
2. The MoU may be amended upon mutual agreement of the parties in form of a written Addendum. The Addendum will be an integral part of this MoU and will enter into force according to the same procedures as the MoU.
3. The termination of application of this MoU will not affect the validity or duration of ongoing cooperative activities being carried out under this MoU.
